Awesome Revelation Worship Band will play the first of three summer Christian concerts at the Rotary Aqua Theatre Friday at 7 p.m. Submitted photo

After hosting Christian concerts since 2007, this summer, the Kairos ministry group has opened the door for a new adventure encouraging Christian bands or other ministries to carry on with the celebration of faith.

This summer, three groups have stepped forward. Local bands Awesome Revelation Worship Band and The Bob Hawkins Band previously played as part of the I.F.T.G. (It's Friday Thank God) concert series in the park and have booked events this summer.

Awesome Revelation Worship Band will play the first of three free concerts at the Rotary Aqua Theatre Friday at 7 p.m.

Awesome Revelation Worship Band has been together for five years. Its members range from ages 13 to 50-plus years old. A couple of the members travel from Peterborough and Barrie to be part of the band. Although based out of Westmount United Church, the band also plays at local events, retreats and churches. They play a mix of contemporary and traditional Christian tunes, including a gospel/bluegrass set featuring local banjo player Sean Patrick and Dale Patrick (both members of The Griddle Pickers) and Jeff Davis on mandolin.

Awesome Revelation Worship Band has arranged for the Life 100.3 street team to be at the event Friday.

On Aug. 22 at 7 p.m., Life 100.3 is hosting Anthem for Today and Luke Langman and The Bob Hawkins Band will play at the Aqua Theatre Aug. 29 at 7 p.m.
